Boys & Girls Draft Rules:

The draft order will be determined by drawing a number.

Teams will be drafted starting with the first team and going through to the last team and then starting the next round with the last team going to the first team and so on. If a team reaches 7 players before other teams due to siblings then that team will be frozen in the draft until all other teams have 7 players then will continue to draft as normal.

Only players who participated in the draft may be drafted by the coaches. All of the players who did not participate in the draft will be randomly assigned to teams by the draft administrator (the one exception to this is the protected Assistant Coach's child).

The head coach automatically receives their child(ren) on the team. If the head coach has an assistant coach, the assistant coach's child(ren) must be picked the second round of the draft. Head coaches must declare who their assistant coach is and child before the draft begins. A coach may pick one assistant coach for draft purposes.

If there are siblings in the league then when you draft one then you receive the other automatically to your team unless requested otherwise from the parents.

Each team will have a maximum of 10 players. If a team ends up with less than 10 players, the next kid on the waiting list will be given to the next team in line from the draft order and will continue until each team reaches 10 players or there are not enough players on the waiting list to fill-up all of the teams.

Trading players is not allowed.

No children or players are allowed in the draft room during the draft.
Coaches only please!

Please keep draft information confidential!
